

Benefits to Clinical Sites

Streamlined Process

Electronic rotation data allows you to know when students are at your facility, as well as any details that are helpful to have documented. The information collected on a rotation is flexible and customizable.

Flexible set-up allows rotation requests and details to be solely viewable to the appropriate people at your facility depending on discipline. Automatic emails notify the appropriate person when necessary.

Deliver your orientation through ACEMAPP. Once assigned to a rotation at your site, users will automatically be assigned any courses, assessments, forms and requirements that you have indicated they need to complete based on their program, whether they are a student or faculty, and what unit they are placed on. Site coordinators, schools, and faculty can monitor student progress.

At a glance, you can see if a rotation is finalized and ready to begin. Rotations are finalized automatically in ACEMAPP only once all assigned to the rotation have met each aspect of your site's compliance. When the rotation is finalized, you will receive an email notification. A rotation preparedness report allows you and the school to view a group's progress towards compliance.

Management Tools

ACEMAPP acts as a platform for managing affiliation agreements with schools, including an email notification when an affiliation is close to expiration.

Extensive reporting capabilities allow you to confidently calculate community benefit dollars, pull data to show trends in clinical education at your site, and gather data on vaccine numbers for required federal inquiries.

Custom reporting features enable you to easily send departments the information they need to prepare for students and faculty.

- Badging
- Parking permits
- EMR access
- Security

ACEMAPP aids in the orientation process during times of staff turnover by housing all important clinical education data in one place.

Confidence during audits that student and faculty compliance verification is at your fingertips, regardless of when the rotation occurred.

The option of having access to student and faculty documents online, should you choose to require them to be uploaded. The documents requested are customizable and can include e-signatures..
